PINEWOOD PLANKS

Pine is mainly imported from Uruguay. Pine wood is very strong, cheap and easy to work (less tool wear). Open grain gives better grip for adhesives and it readily absorbs preservatives, stains and paints.

These wooden blocks are widely used in the variety of constructional works such as flooring, wall cladding, roofing, and various such factors. Owing to their durability and sturdiness, these battens have become highly demanded in the market. These battens do not degrade or become inferior due to moisture, water, or any other hazardous effects. Apart from their applications in constructions, these are also most often used in the manufacturing of heavy duty packaging boxes. We have made available a wide assortment of the Pine Wood Battens in different sizes and types in order to fulfill the diverse demands of our clients.
